Palatability Crossover Study NutriVed O.F.A. Chewable Tablets

A.C.C., of San Diego, California conducted the Palatability Trial. This trial was headed up by Dr. Terry Roberts, DVM.

The purpose of the study was to compare free choice acceptance of NutriVed O.F.A. Chewable Tablets, in dogs and cats, with the top selling vitamin and nutritional supplements that are dispensed by veterinarians in the United States. While NutriVed O.F.A. Chewables are more than just a vitamin supplement, the study was conducted to obtain statistical data on free choice acceptance by dogs and cats, to give veterinarians an idea as to what their clients can expect in regard to the palatability of NutriVed products.

Test Protocol

All six Nutritional Supplement Products were offered to be fed free choice morning, noon, and evening.

Nutritional Supplement Products were rotated. In other words, those products that were fed in the morning the first day, were rotated to noon the second day, and evening the third day, so on and so on.

Dear Doctor,

Since one of the major causes of product failure is improper dosing and lack of client/patient compliance with recommended dosing regimens, our goal has been to develop product delivery systems that make therapy and dosing convenient for the client and patient. We have reached that goal with our proprietary flavor base and tableting technology.

We are so confident in our NutriVed products that Vedco, Inc. and its distributors will offer you an UNCONDITIONAL MONEY BACK GUARANTEE.

If any of your clients are dissatisfied with NutriVed products for any reason, after having administered the product for a minimum period of 60 days, then you can refund their purchase price. Present the returned bottle to your VEDCO Distributor Sales Representative and they will replace it with a new bottle FREE OF CHARGE.

No questions asked.

What could be better? A complete product guarantee, along with the benefit of microencapsulation technology and products formulated based upon the nutritional guidelines of the 1990s for both dogs and cats. Add to this the ease of ordering from your VEDCO Distributor and you have a winning combination.

I guarantee it.

Sincerely yours,

Vedco, Inc.
